

provided
toU.S.-Asia Institute

- According to Bill Sherman, Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for North Asia, and Gaston Sigur, NSC, the U.S.-Asia Institute has no substantive or contractual relationship with the Department of State or the Department of Defense. Source from Graham
- This group, like other public groups, has arranged to use State Department facilities on occasion for meetings. Mike Armacost was a speaker at one of these meetings.
- A quick check in the library shows that the U.S.-Asia Institute is located on 20th Street downtown, was founded in 1979, has a staff of 6, and has as a Director Ester G. Kee. ↑ by Sugahara
- The Institute promotes U.S.-Asian understanding, etc., and gives awards to young American-Asian kids.